

WOULD DISSOLVE HARVESTER COMPANY

STONE BEGINS SUIT AGAINST INTERNATIONAL

Declares "Consent Decree"
Has Failed to Restore Competition

Action in St. Paul Federal Court Designed to Stop
Monopoly

Washington, Oct. 23.—Asserting that the "consent decree" entered six years ago against the International Harvester Company, has failed to restore competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry, the government filed today in the federal court at St. Paul, supplemental proceedings designed to bring about an effective dissolution of its mammoth corporation.

"The action is aimed at removing the harvesting machine industry from the monopoly charged against the International Company and to afford proper protection to the farmers and owners dependent upon agricultural machinery obtainable at reasonable prices," it was announced at department of justice.

At the harvester company is a violation in restraint of trade and monopoly in violation of sections 2 of the Sherman law is hereby established by the decision of the court which stands unaltered and unmodified," Attorney General Stone's brief declared.

The present proceedings should be confused with a trial of the case now to ascertain whether International Harvester Company today is violating the law.

The only question in issue and the question which the court has jurisdiction to consider under the reservation in the decree is whether the decree has had the effect to restore competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry.

Stone said the government holds that "the relief sought and the relief provided for by the consent decree has failed to restore proper competitive conditions."

"One of two things ought to be done, the attorney general said. Either the judges who decided this case ought to be reversed upon the ground that their decision was wholly erroneous and that there never was justification for dissolution, or else dissolution should be decreed."

The consent decree of six years ago provided that the International Harvester Co. should be enjoined from having more than one representative in a given locality and that the company should dispose of certain lines of harvesting machinery, and plans to unlawfully acquire by the acquisition of certain competing companies."

"The government then charged," Stone continued, "that the International Harvester Company was a combination in restraint of trade and a monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law."

"It was evident at that time, in view of the properties to be disposed of and those to be retained by the harvester company, the relief thus granted by the consent decree would in all likelihood prove inadequate in restoring competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry."

"A clause, therefore, was embodied in the decree providing for a test in which the effect of the decree might be judged."

Under this brief, filed in St. Paul, the attorney general asserted that "not only had the consent decree not effected any substantial competition during the test period, but that, to the contrary, during the period, eight years after the company's competition in the harvester line, went out of business and the company's percentage of the total business actually increased for the selling season of 1922, which was included in the period."

The original consent decree was annulled down by the United States circuit court in 1914, and an appeal by the harvester company to the United States supreme court, was dismissed in 1918 by agreement.

The terms of the agreement were reached in a conference between the corporation and the attorney general. "The test period" expired May 14, 1923, after which the department of justice issued an opinion of the result of the agreement. In 1923, the government filed a supplemental petition asking for an effective dissolution in accordance with the plan recommended by the trade commission.

"It is very clear," the attorney general said, "that congress has never departed from the policy of competition first ordained by the Sherman act. The history of the times, the debates in congress and the circumstances surrounding passage of the Sherman act, made it clear that it was aimed principally at the great corporate interests."

TYPIST'S HUSBAND HELD FOR SHOOTING FORMER LEGION HEAD

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—Colonel John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion, was shot while in his office here and wounded in the arm. Police are holding the husband of Emery's stenographer in connection with the shooting. Two shots were fired, one going astray and the other hitting the former legion chief in the fleshy part of his right arm.

The assailant, Seydel Simpson, waited in the office until arrival of the police. When taken to police headquarters Simpson said Emery was trying to break up his family. He would not elaborate on this other than saying Mrs. Simpson was suing for divorce. At the hospital Colonel Emery denied any part in the family trouble between his stenographer and her husband. Mrs. Simpson also denied her husband's charges.

Colony Emery, who is 43 years old and married, could give no reason why Simpson singled him out as the cause of his domestic troubles. The man's wife, according to Emery, has been employed in the real estate office only a fortnight and he had never seen either Simpson or Mrs. Simpson before that time.

SELZNICK COMPANY IS IN BANKRUPTCY

New York, Oct. 23.—On claims totaling $3,000 Federal Judge Winslow of the Southern district of New York was appointed receiver for the Selznick Distributing corporation, petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy by three creditors. The corporation was formed in April, 1923, when the Select Pictures corporation was absorbed. C. J. Doolittle of Trenton Falls, N. Y., was elected president and authoritative information says that debts of an old organization amounting to more than $1,000,000 were paid off in a single year. Lewis J. Selznick left the firm at this reorganization. A short time ago the corporation is said to have planned further changes, eliminating the name "Selznick." No assets or liabilities were mentioned in the papers filed in court.

HOWARD FAVORABLE TO DAWES PROGRAM

New York, Oct. 23.—Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, declared here that although the Dawes reparation plan has been in operation but a short time, there is "more hope, more good will and more charity abroad in Europe than there has been for 10 years at least, if not almost from time immemorial." The ambassador referred to past activities of certain concession hunters and company promoters in world fields, which sometimes have threatened the peace of the world. He declared there is "only one way to eliminate this possible danger to peace and good will and that is by the strict application of the American doctrine of the 'open door.'"

DENIES SAYING RUSSIA IS BACK OF LA FOLLETTE

Washington, Oct. 23.—The senate committee probing campaign contributions questioned Chairman T. V. O'Connor of the United States shipping board regarding his alleged statement that some of the money for Senator La Follette's campaign was sent here by soviet Russia.

The witness admitted he had no foundation for his hint that soviet Russia was sending money to aid the presidential campaign of La Follette. "I didn't make any such statement," said O'Connor and read from a speech in which he asked: "How much money was sent in from soviet Russia to win this fight?" "I was asking a question," he said.

"That is not a question, but a declaration," interposed Senator Cawway of Arkansas.

O'Connor said that he had heard the rumors from engineers and shipping men coming from Russia and that he "believed in his heart" soviet Russia was aiding the La Follette campaign. He said he made the statement to have it denied by "some one in authority."

O'Connor said he advanced about $360 to Joseph Ryan, first vice president of the Longshoremen's association, to pay hotel and taxi bills incurred here by a delegation of longshoremen who visited President Coolidge on Labor day. Ryan has since returned the money, O'Connor said.

Samuel Untermyer then took up the cross-examination and asked O'Connor if he had not read La Follette's statement issued last year on his return from Russia in which the Wisconsin senator declared himself opposed to the soviet government. The witness said he did not recall the statement.

"Did you mean to convey to your audience that the soviet government was financing Senator La Follette's campaign?" asked Untermyer. "I wanted my question answered," O'Connor replied.

O'Connor objected to Untermyer's questioning when the lawyer asked if O'Connor had arranged with the president or C. Bascom Slem, secretary to Coolidge, to bring the labor delegation to Washington on Labor day. When Borah told him to answer O'Connor said that both the president and Slem were out of the city at the time the meeting was arranged.

Joseph R. Grundy, worsted manufacturer of Bristol, Pa., and chairman of the Pennsylvania ways and means committee of the Republican national committee, said his organization had raised $365,000 up to date in 53 counties in Pennsylvania outside of the Pittsburgh district. W. L. Mellon, a relative of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, is in charge of raising money in that district, he said.

Edward P. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, partner of J. P. Morgan, denied the information reaching Senator La Follette that he had been named at the recent convention of the American Bankers' association at Chicago to head a committee to solicit funds from the bankers of the country to aid the Republican national or other tickets. Stotesbury told of collecting approximately $50,000 in Philadelphia for the Grundy committee, of which he is a member. Both Stotesbury and Grundy told the committee that they had no knowledge of the collection of funds for the Republican campaign by any Pennsylvania organization except the ways and means committee, the Union league and the Manufacturers' club. They disclaimed any knowledge of special and independent efforts to raise funds among the bankers and business men.

WOMAN CONFESSES BLACKMAIL CRIME

New York, Oct. 23.—Detectives say Helen Petrose, 24, who was arrested in a Jersey City laundry, where she was employed as a sorter, has confessed that she was the lure by which a Boston blackmail ring of lawyers extorted $60,000 from Albert Victor Seales, millionaire artist. She also confessed, it is alleged, that she was the bait in other plots that netted blackmailers more than $600,000. Abraham Levy, Yale student, being a victim, she said. She is being held for extradition to Boston, where she is wanted on four counts charging conspiracy and other offenses. While she told police that her name was Petrose and that she had been employed in the laundry two years, the police declared she was Eleanor Barnes, alias Sheila Barton, and a half dozen other names.

AUTOS MORE DEADLY THAN TYPHOID FEVER SAYS CENSUS BUREAU

Columbus, Oct. 23.—According to the federal census bureau, more than 1,000 persons were killed in Ohio by automobiles during the year 1923. The gasoline machines are shown to have been three times as fatal as typhoid fever and 180 times as fatal as smallpox. However, auto accidents were only one-fifth as fatal to Buckeyes as tuberculosis and cancer.

Autos killed 1,078 persons in Ohio last year, the census bureau has just announced, an increase of such fatalities from 818 in 1922. Compared with the 1,078 auto accident deaths in Ohio in 1923, records show typhoid caused 395 deaths, smallpox only six, tuberculosis 5,250 and cancer 5,791.

There were 14,412 deaths caused by autos in the United States last year, census bureau figures show. This was a death rate of 17.6 persons per 100,000 population, four more than the average rate of 1922 and one-third more than the rate of 11.8 persons in 1918, when the government first began assembling these statistics. The Ohio rate is 2.7 per cent higher than the average for the nation.

Akron, with a rate of but 12 deaths per 100,000 residents, has the lowest of the state and one of the lowest in the nation. Cincinnati is highest in the state, with a rate of 25.1 persons; Youngstown is 24.6 persons, Toledo 23.4, Cleveland 22.8 and Columbus 22.2.

Death rate in these cities the previous year was: Akron 16.6, Cincinnati 18.8, Cleveland 16.6, Columbus 14.5, Toledo 17.3 and Youngstown 24.6. While fatalities were increased in other cities, they actually were decreasing, proportionately to population, in Akron, which incidentally has steadily decreased its auto death rate since 1918. With the exception of Youngstown, which showed a rate of 31.9 persons in 1918, other cities have increased their auto death rate.

Deaths caused from automobile accidents last year were: Akron 40, Cincinnati 102, Cleveland 203, Columbus 58, Toledo 63 and Youngstown 37. Deaths the previous year were: Akron 25, Cincinnati 76, Cleveland 102, Columbus 37, Toledo 45, Youngstown 27.

INCREASES REWARD IN SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF POLICEMAN-TWO SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—With the reward for the slayers of Patrolman Michael Hahnel boosted to $6,000 and a dozen suspects under arrest, work in running down the men guilty of the murder was under way with redoubled vigor today. The latest suspects were arrested just before midnight last night, when two men, one a blond and the other dark with an impediment in his speech—one of the clues to the criminals—were arrested in a road construction camp.

NAVAL OFFICER QUESTIONED IN OIL LEASE SUIT

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—In the government suit to cancel the lease and contracts of naval oil reserve properties to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, Commander H. G. Stuart, United States navy, formerly officer in charge of the naval fuel oil reserves at Washington, was called to prove that a disagreement existed in the navy department concerning these leases, that the navy officer had not been in accord with the policy and was subsequently removed from office.

Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, asked Stuart to relate his dealings with Secretary of Interior Fall prior to the granting of the leases to the Pan-American interests. Stuart said:

"After it was decided to make the lease, Admiral Griffin and I went to Secretary Fall and told him we had heard the United Midway was to be given the lease on part of No. 1. We objected to this and said it was not necessary to drill wells. Fall said he had already taken it up with the president, and had met with his approval. Fall said he would get proof of the approval, but did not until later. We left and went to the navy building and were then summoned back and shown the approval of the president. Shortly after the leases were divided."

Introduction of testimony was preceded by offering of documentary evidence, including the withdrawal order of President Taft, by which the Elk Hills oil lands were withdrawn from public entry; the executive order by President Harding in 1921 directing that administration of the naval oil reserves be transferred to the department of the interior from the navy department, and other documents bearing on the case.

E. L. Doheny is controlling shareholder in the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company. The leases in question are valued at $100,000,000, for the granting of which the government charges Doheny paid $100,000 to Fall.

DAVIS PLEDGES TO EXTEND PRESERVES FOR GAME IN STATE

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23.—In his speech here Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, said, if elected, he proposed extending game preserves over Ohio so that the state would occupy an enviable position in the reforestation program of the country and would present many places suitable for camping and hunting grounds.

"A million acres of land are available in this state for such work," he said. "We propose to buy much of this land and establish more game preserves, and we propose to do it without increases in taxes and without increased cost of operating the state's activities."

"Speaking of the cost of the state's activities, I want to say that this is one of the things I would like to have Governor Donahue explain. For weeks I have been demanding that he go before the people and tell them why it is that the running expenses of the state have increased $900,000 a year since we left office. I have asked for other explanations, but none have been forthcoming."

BRITISH POLITICAL MEE TINGS BROKEN UP BY RIOTING OF LABORITES-SEVERAL HURT

London, Oct. 23.—Increasingly ugly temper was evidenced today in reports of disorders at political meetings in all parts of the country with the election less than a week away. Several meetings ended in riots and in some places candidates and partisans were injured in the violence of demonstrations.

Stones flew in a demonstration against H. C. Hogbin, Liberal candidate of Battersea, who suffered painful injury of one eye. The same rowdies, hooted and howled at Hogbin's wife.

Sir Auckland Geddes, formerly ambassador to the United States, was forced to abandon his address at a Tory meeting at Hulme when wild disorders broke out.

Tables and chairs were overturned and a free for all fight took the place of political speeches after Sir Robert Horne had been howled down at Glasgow. In a fight at a meeting at Lambeth, an usher was slashed with a razor and was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Lady Astor sparred with hecklers for over an hour, then was forced to give up the attempt to continue a meeting at Plymouth, where she is a candidate for re-election to commons.

The crowd shouted: "Raise the red flag; then we'll listen to you!" to which Lady Astor retorted: "You won't listen because you don't want to hear the truth."

Meanwhile, children had torn the Tory banners from Lady Astor's car and put up labor banners in their place. Former Premier Asquith encountered such a blast of heckling at Lambeth that he was forced to suspend his meeting for a time.

Labor headquarters, while regretting the demonstrations that intense feeling have started, denied any responsibility for the outbreaks. The

The players, Frank Meese and Frederick Johnson, now are participating in high school games under an injunction granted recently. Other schools in the Ohio High School Athletic association have threatened to cancel games with Scott because Meese and Johnson are playing. It is said. Should any of the schools refuse to play, damage actions may be filed against them if it is found that such action is justified. Meese and Johnson were barred on the ground that they did not attend school last semester.

WORKERS STILL DIGGING AFTER MINERS' BODIES

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 23.—Rescue workers were still digging the debris-filled shaft of the Hart Coal Company mine here today for four men entombed by an explosion late last night.

The blast killed three miners and buried nine others, five of whom escaped through an abandoned shaft.

The explosion, believed caused by a "windy shot" occurred in shaft No. 9, 220 feet under ground, less than half an hour after the day force of 250 left the workings. It wrecked the fanhouse and tipple, jammed the cage in the shaft and left the community in darkness as it tore down high tension electric wires running near the mine.

Police said they learned from workmen at the Cramer Livery Company that Reynolds received a bad fall in the stable Monday night and was advised to go to a doctor for treatment.

The men said he promised to go to a physician. When next heard from, he was dead. Police are of the belief that he failed to see a doctor and sought refuge in the vacant house where he died as the result of the injury to his head.

"The heave of the weapon hit Banks on top of the head and peeled the scalp from the forehead to the crown." ## CROWDS BRAVING CHILLY WEATHER TO ATTEND TRADE SHOW

The third night of the Elks' Exposition and Trade Show at the Dodds Addition at Detroit and Church Sts., was well attended by local fun-lovers, and in spite of the chilly weather that has done much to keep the crowds down to average size, the attendance was larger than on either of the two preceding days, and automobiles lined both West and East Church St., for several blocks.

The Merchants' Exhibit especially proved attractive to the crowd, where the big canvas tent sheltered the populace from the biting weather. Concessionaires did a rousing business with their innumerable attractions, but when the dance hall opened up later in the evening, this place again proved the mecca for the crowd as was the case on the preceding days.

The "great white way" was brilliantly lighted and the entire grounds quickly took on a bustling appearance soon after the gates were thrown open. There from one rushing here and there from one attraction to another, in an endeavor to "take them all in." Many new cars have been added to the automobile show and it is now ascertained that practically every make of car sold in the county is on exhibition in the biggest tent of the entire show. The festival is proving to be a big success in spite of the cold weather that probably keeps many people away from the attraction and the exposition besides being the first of its nature ever held in the county is one of the most popular.

FINAL MEETINGS IN COUNTY TO WIND UP STUMP CAMPAIGN

The Republican party will close one of the most successful campaigns ever conducted in Greene County in less than two weeks with three rally meetings scheduled over the county during that time.

Bellbrook will be the scene of the first meeting Saturday night, at which time three speakers will give addresses. McCarty, of Westerville, O., will talk on state issues.

The second rally will take place October 28, at Jamestown, and Dr. McChesney and Congressman Brand will again give addresses in the interest of their party. Winding up the "stump" campaign in the county, the third and closing meeting will be held at Yellow Springs, November 1, and this rally should be of added interest because Senator S. D. Fess, will deliver the main speech to his townspeople. His talk will bear on national questions.

Another speaker who is well known to many local people, Charles Knight, former congressman and Republican candidate for governor two years ago.

ENGLAND'S BIG SOAP TRUST HAS 3,000 EMPLOYE-OWNERS

England's big soap trust has just had its annual co-partnership meeting, a great assembly of 3,000 employees of Lever Bros., Ltd. This annual meeting is unique and invariably attracts a high degree of attention. It is one of England's yearly events.

These 3,000 employees hold $16,000,000 worth of stock in the soap trust. They receive about $1,000,000 a year in dividends. And every year they meet in a large auditorium in Liverpool to receive their dividends and to hear a word of praise from the head of the business—Lord Leverhulme.

Lever Bros., Ltd. is the parent company of the soap trust. It has $350,000,000 in assets and 60,000 shareholders, to whom it pays 17 1/2 per cent. It now controls 85 per cent of the soap business of Great Britain and it has made $95,000,000 in profits in the last five years.

In spite of its enormous size, this soap trust is a one man business. It was created by one man—Lord Leverhulme—and he still has absolute control of it. Lord Leverhulme is now seventy-three years old. He is one of the half dozen richest men in Great Britain and, now that Hugo Stinnes is dead, he is probably the most powerful manufacturer.

Lord Leverhulme has always been the master of his own affairs. He has never been controlled by a bank or a Board of Directors. He is the champion of profit-sharing and the six-hour day in England. He does not believe in a class war between labor and capital. He believes that capital should take the risks and the control, but that it should share its prosperity with labor. He advocates co-partnership, not as a humanitarian nor an idealist, but as the most practical way to secure the loyalty and enthusiasm of the employees.

He is a pioneer in town planning, too. He has built a model town—Port Sunlight, near Liverpool. This town covers three square miles and is one of the sights of England.—Written for the Public Ledger from London by H. N. Casson.

HUNGARY IS COMING BACK TO HER OWN

With the German loan floated and the Dawes plan successfully inaugurated, fresh interest attaches to the Hungarian reconstruction effort. It will be recalled that after the adoption of the plan prepared by the Financial Committee of the League of Nations and the signing of excellent protocols by the neighboring States, a $50,000,000 Hungarian reconstruction loan was floated in the markets of Europe and America. Meanwhile, Jeremiah Smith Jr., of Boston, had been installed as commissioner general in charge of Hungary's finances.

Five months have now elapsed since Mr. Smith took charge and the plan is working nicely. In his fourth monthly report that for August, he states that the budget deficits are proving smaller than he had estimated. Actual revenue collections are larger than those that were expected when he set up his budgets a few months ago.

Women of the city and county are invited to send in their favorite recipes and these will be published for the benefit of the other women of the community. ## 1904-Twenty Years Ago-1924

The opening of the Republican campaign in Greene County was marked by a rousing meeting and much enthusiasm. The Opera House was well filled and the speeches of the orators were given the closest attention.

The Circuit Court in session in this city took important action Monday afternoon affecting the price of gas to the citizens of Xenia, insuring only the charge as provided by the ordinance until the case in court can be heard on its merits.

The Republicans are awaiting, with anticipation, the crowning event of the county campaign, the big Foraker meeting which will occur next Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Opera House.

The football event for Saturday will be the Washington C. H. Central High School game. On a former game between these teams, Xenia got the worst of it by a score of 10 to 9.

The Roney's Boys Concert Company which opens the Star Course, this evening, at the Opera House, gave a benefit concert to the children of the O. S. and S. O. Home this afternoon.

Generally speaking, rag rugs with a definite pattern are today more popular than the old-fashioned hit-or-miss manner of combining the colors. Here are some suggestions for pattern crocheted rugs:

A Rug Made of Squares 12 Inches in Diameter: To Make One Square, chain three, join, and work eight single crochet in ring. Then work around with three single crochet in each corner for 12 rounds. Finish this square with some contrasting color, still increasing at the corners. Use any colors you wish in making this rug—so long as you do not use two squares of the same color side by side when you sew the squares together. To make a rug thirty-eight inches by sixty inches with these squares, you will have to make 15 squares in all (that is, three squares across). Crochet three rows of some plain, dark color completely around the rug after you sew all the 15 squares together. With nine squares, you can make a perfectly squared rug. (Note: Tear the r-g strips about three-quarters of an inch wide and use a size 13 wood crochet hook.)

A Circular Rag Rug: (This has a small round center of some solid, dark color, then the same dark color alternated with a light color in rings. A big Maltese Cross is part of the pattern). Assuming that dark gray is the dark color and pink the light, begin by chaining three with the light, then join and work six single crochet in ring; do not join, but work around. Second and Third Round: Two single crochet in each single crochet, 24 S. C. st., 1 S. C. in next stitch and repeat. Fourth Round: No. 2 S. C. in first from * Fifth Round: * 2 S. C. in 1st st., 1 S. C. in each of two stitches and stitches in round, six or seven rounds, repeat from *. Continue to increase, keeping the work flat, till there are 52 This much of the directions forms the dark center.

Pattern Round Number One: Join pink, * 1 gray, 1 pink, 1 gray, 1 pink, 1 gray, nine pink in eight gray, repeat from * but do not join. Round Two: Repeat * the first five stitches of Round One, then in the eight pink work ten pink and repeat from *. Round Three: 1 gray, * 1 pink, 1 gray, 1 pink, 12 gray (not increasing here) and repeat from *. Round Four: 1 pink, 1 gray, 1 pink, 1 gray, 2 pink in 1 gray, eight pink in eight gray, 2 pink in 1 gray, 1 gray, repeat from *, 12 sts. in each pink section. Continue in this way till rug is desired size.

Thin, Worn-Out Folks Read What Minister Says About Glands

AND WHAT MEDICAL SCIENCE HAS DONE TO BRING BACK YOUTHFUL ENERGY, AND GOOD SOLID FLESH.

In the newspapers of the entire country, a well known New York minister of the gospel recently repeats and emphasizes this amazing fact: "In the physical body," states the Reverend Doctor, "We know that when the thyroid gland wastes away, physical and mental degeneracy take place. Nobody knows why, but it is so."

When the glands in your body wear out or become exhausted, you lose the vigor of healthy manhood or womanhood, you become sluggish, cranky, nervous, aged. But when you renew these dried-up glands with fresh gland extract your vitality returns, you put on weight, you sleep, eat, and feel 100 per cent better, in most cases (just as you would recharge a dry or storage battery with new energy.

The famous Kath gland specialists have applied all the findings of Medical science to the final discovery of a gland treatment within the reach of everybody's purse. At the age of 60 a man can now feel 60 Years Young—Not 60 Years Old, by taking the Kath gland treatment for two or three weeks.

Thin young men and women, nervous, worn out middle-aged folks—all can build up and be strong in a few weeks' time.

The following authorized Kath agent will sell you the marvelous KATH treatment and will absolutely guarantee it to give you real benefits or not cost you one cent.

Today's Talks

NOT SO FAST!

We need to "Fletcherize" life. Everything is movement. Time goes by, not enough time is what we hear day after day.

But there is plenty of time. The big man takes no more time to do a big job than the little man takes to do a little job.

The same instrument in one man's hands perform wonders and is useless in another's.

It's the way everything is used, including time, that counts.

Do with all your might while you do—then rest. Not so fast. Take your time. The better you do your work the more permanent it will be. The more fun you will get out of it. The more health, too.

I remember playing golf with a well known hotel owner. He couldn't wait for the others to play after he had played. He wanted to be right off the tee. And of course he not only spoiled his own game but the game of those with whom he played.

I have noticed that those who do the most do it easily, methodically, surely. They have no complaint about time either. It's the fellow with his desk loaded and with only so many hours in which to work who does little.

Not so fast—but clean up as you go is a good motto for any worker. The more fun and helpfulness you can weave into your work the happier you are bound to be.

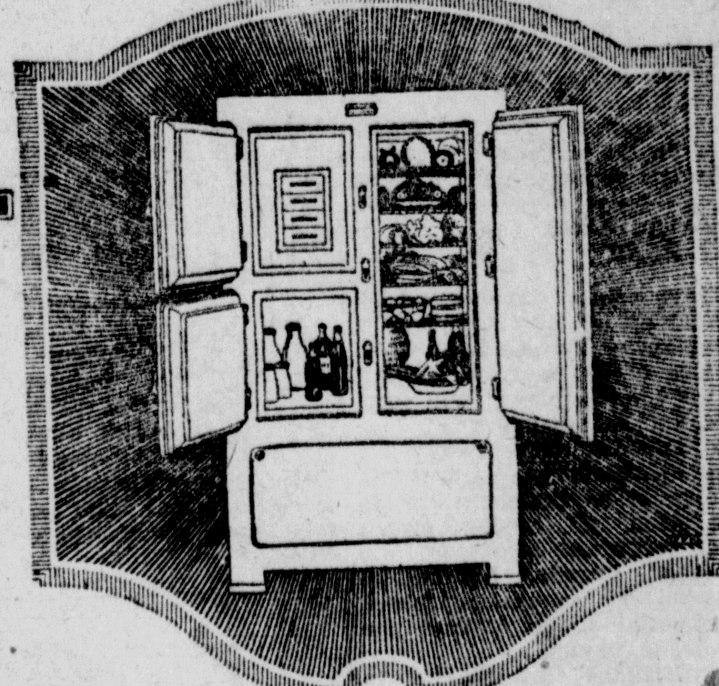

Arrange things so that life wears well. Try to determine your pace and then keep it up—but vary it with all sorts of interests.

It is wonderful how much can be achieved through system and a proper arrangement of your time and abilities.

Folks who go too fast nearly always lose themselves.

Mr. Midler entered the service as fireman in September, 1880 and was promoted to engineer in September, 1884. He was made acting assistant road foreman of engines August 20, 1899 and in July 1900 he was assigned to special duty as air brake instructor. Mr. Midler was appointed road foreman of engines March 15, 1901, in which capacity he served until January 1, 1904, when he was appointed assistant trainmaster at Cincinnati. Mr. Midler became trainmaster July 1, 1906 and was transferred to Zanesville Division February 1, 1923 as road foreman of engines. When the Zanesville Division was merged with the Cincinnati Division January 16, 1924, Mr. Midler was made assistant foreman of engines at Lancaster.

Mr. Midler was born at Bainbridge, O., September 15, 1861. In April 1903 he was chosen by T. W. Demarest, then superintendent of motive power of the old Southwest System, to represent him in assisting in the compilation of the first book of "Rules Governing the Employment of Firemen and Outline of Examination for their Promotion to Engineer." Mr. Hilberry represented D. F. Crawford then superintendent of motive power of the old Northwest system and these two men finally completed a set of rules which were approved by the general manager.

Mr. Midler is widely known over the entire system but particularly on the lines west of Pittsburgh.

ABIE'S IRISH ROSE MOST POPULAR PLAY IN RECENT YEARS

No play written in the last century has been more widely discussed, heralded nor phenomenally and consistently successful than has Anne Nichols' famous comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," which will appear at the City Hall Theater, October 27, 28 and 29, with a matinee.

This wonder-play of the age has established precedents never before heard of in theatrical annals in the way of long engagements in many of the larger cities of the country, including New York, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"Abie's Irish Rose" deals with the marriage of a Jewish boy and an Irish girl, first married by a Methodist minister, then again in rapid succession by a Rabbi and a Catholic priest, in an effort to appease their storming fathers. The theme is handled in a deft and human manner and does not give offense to the most sensitive. The lines cause hysterical laughter on the part of the audiences that have enjoyed the play.

CLASS ENJOYS WIENER ROAST

The members of Mrs. V. F. Brown's Sunday School Class of the Trinity M. E. Church and their families enjoyed a wiener roast Monday evening in the woods on the F. B. Haines farm on the Nash Road.

The guests spent an enjoyable evening roasting wieners around a huge bonfire. Pumpkin pie was also served. The crowd numbered about thirty-five.

Eugene Ringer, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ringer of 10 Elm Street, received a fracture of his left arm below the elbow when he was struck and run over by an auto truck, Tuesday afternoon, near his home. The lad ran into the street not noticing the approaching machine. The driver stopped his car in order to save the boy further injury.

Mrs. R. S. Gregory of Chicago, Ill., who has been spending the past six weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien of Hill Street, will leave Saturday for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Montgomery, Mrs. James Woodell and Miss Helen Nesbitt, all of Cleveland accompanied the remains of their mother Mrs. William B. Nesbitt, to this city. Funeral services were held at the Woodland Cemetery Chapel, Wednesday afternoon.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

At Exactly Open Car Cost

You pay exactly open car cost for the all-year comforts of the Coach. Hudson alone can build it. As the largest builder of 6-cylinder closed cars in the world, Hudson exclusively holds the advantages to produce this car and this price.

It creates the one important buying issue today. For no one who knows closed car comforts will be satisfied with an open car, with one-season utility, and diminishing resale value.

That is why the Coach outsells all rivals. Its leadership is not even challenged. Everyone knows it provides highest closed car value. Hudson invented the Coach and its development and experience make its value exclusive.

And even more important in your permanent enjoyment of the Coach, is the famous Super-Six chassis with performance distinction and long lasting reliability not excelled by any car regardless of cost.

IMPERIALS MUCH STRONGER FOR GAME WITH MIDDLETOWN

In their fourth contest this season the Imperials are to meet the strong Middletown Aces Sunday afternoon at Washington Park at 2:15 o'clock. Middletown has been victorious in both games it has played this season winning from the Lebanon Tigers and Kings Mills by large scores. To date the Butler county gridders have not been scored upon and word received from them indicate that in coming here they intend to keep their slate clean.

The Imperials are much stronger now than they were in their opening game of the season when the Bulldogs defeated them by a 13 to 0 score. Frank Shroads of Cedarville, former American Legion lineman, will be in Uniform Sunday and will probably hold down one of the tackles. Manager Wones of the Imperial tried to rebuke the Bulldogs but their manager gave several poor excuses. Sunday's game will be handled by Randall who will referee while "Bill" Leakey will be headlinesman.

Health Hints
Father of Physical Culture

Proper play exercise will make demand for deeper breathing, and no especial attention to this matter will be required in most cases. If mouth breathing develops or is threatened, the nose should be examined for obstructions.

Children have a natural desire to express their ebullient feelings in vocal terms annoying to their elders but highly beneficial to the youngsters. They should be permitted to "yell their heads off" at times, and they should be encouraged to sing—or make the attempt. These vocal exercises develop the lungs and help to purify the blood by leading to more complete oxygenization of the blood and neutralization of the body poisons. Besides, singing insures a better, more cheerful frame of mind, and this is valuable to any one.

Development and growth are increased by activity but would not be possible without sufficient rest, relaxation and sleep. These must be allowed and insured, and under the most wholesome conditions possible; otherwise your child's nerves will be weakened and sooner or later, his entire organism will suffer.

Regardless of properly conducted exercise, suitable wearing apparel, care of the skin and of the body generally, and of sufficient rest and sleep, a child will be in defective health and will be susceptible to the various children's diseases and other disturbances of health unless the diet is right.

The care of the mouth and teeth is another important department of child hygiene. Drs. Bowen and Ryan, in "Teeth and Health," say that few mother's understand the importance of preserving the child's first teeth. Since these teeth are only temporary anyhow, and must eventually be replaced by the second set, or permanent teeth, mothers have been led to believe that they may be neglected with impunity. Thus they may be lost long before the permanent ones appear.

Now nothing could be more definitely and lastingly harmful to the child than lose its first teeth before the second teeth are ready to displace them.

The second teeth will come in irregularly if the restraining influence of their predecessors is lost.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

What is the matter with the Central High School football team?

This is not a classified advertisement, but if anybody stumbles over the answer, Coach John Ballantyne will probably be glad to offer a substantial reward for the information.

The blue and white team this year is made up principally of experienced players, with at least one and in some cases two and three years back of them. The players are big, weigh comparably with any opposing team, are well trained and well coached and play good individual football.

A schedule that brought the big games first and resulted in opening defeats may have sapped the pep of the athletes while the injury jinx, which has followed the team faithfully in each game, may have also reduced the morale of the squad. If either is the case the team should come out of the slump with a little luck and a victory or two and may redeem itself in a late start.

Coach Ballantyne has been puzzled by the showing of the eleven so far, and fans who have watched the team are also baffled by its lack of success. A promised come-back Saturday of which the players seem to be confident, may be the turning point.

Dick Gowdy, who has been spending nearly a year in "Little" Washington, Pa., the home of Graves and his well-known cohorts of Washington and Jefferson, tells this story:

It seems that the presidents were playing Grove City or some such small college several years ago, and although expecting a victory, found the little team an exceedingly hard nut to crack. The game dragged on into darkness when the players could hardly see each other.

W. and J. had the ball near the opponents goal and was about to score a touchdown when a backfield man fumbled the ball. One of the visiting players scooped up the pellet and started for his own goal. At the fifty-yard line he was running under wraps with the pack well distanced. A W.

and J. substitute on the sidelines however, saw the predicament, and diving on the field, tackled the man with the ball. In a moment both teams were there and the touchdown was saved. The substitute stepped back off the field, unseen in the darkness and Grove City never knew who prevented a sure touchdown with the unexpected tackle.

Paul B. Yockey, who stuck with Ohio State even during the disastrous 1923 season, can still find a way to show his loyalty to his alma mater. He is now making the assertion that Illinois won't beat Ohio by more than fifty points when Zuppke turns "Red" Grange loose on the Wilce-men this fall.

Two Tots Suffocated.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 23.—Lewis, aged 2, and Leona, aged 1, children of Patrick Maloney, were suffocated when their home was damaged by fire. The children were sleeping in a third-story room, in which there was an open stove. When the mother discovered the fire she was seriously burned trying to save the children and is in the Butler hospital.

CEDARVILLE TEAM TO BE HANDICAPPED FOR DEFIANCE GAME

Cedarville College will go to Defiance Saturday with a team greatly handicapped by the absence of at least three first-string men.

Currie, fullback, Arthur, halfback and Snell, tackle, are all first string players who will be out of the lineup when the Reformed Presbyterians meet one of the strongest Ohio college teams playing outside the conference. All three are on the casualty list, while several others are recovering from injuries and will not be in the best of condition for the game.

Scrimmage Wednesday was fast and furious, even with the absence of the regulars. Cedarville tied Earlham in the opening game at Cedarville and the Quakers held Defiance to an exceedingly close score, which indicates the teams will be evenly matched. As most of the injuries are in the backfield, it is expected the offense will be hindered more than the defense in the coming tilt.

CENTRAL HIGH TO SEND REJUVENATED TEAM AGAINST SPRINGFIELD HIGH SATURDAY

ATHLETICS WILL PLAY COLUMBUS ELEVEN SUNDAY

Central High School expects to put a rejuvenated eleven on the field Saturday afternoon when the local grid-ders tangle with Springfield High at Springfield in what is expected to be the best game of the season, at Springfield.

Central High gridders have been battered away with the second stringers and the dummy all week, and by Saturday will be in the "pink" of condition for the up-state eleven, barring injuries. Coach John Ballantyne is out with his squad every afternoon working them as long as the daylight lasts.

Saturday's game will be the fourth of the season for the locals, and it is the aim of the Ballantyne-coached squad to make it the first victory of the season. Statistics show that Xenia has stacked up about even with opposing teams in the matter of form shown, but in every game, Central's old jinx, injuries, would crop out to dash the hopes of the locals, and turn an apparent victory into a defeat.

In the first game of the season with Piqua, Central played the Miami County athletes off their feet in the initial half, gaining eight first downs to two for the opposition, but in the second half injuries shattered the local's lineup and when the whistle blew ending the fracas, the score stood 27 to 0 in favor of Piqua.

Again in the Middletown game, which terminated abruptly in the third quarter, Xenia was leading the boiler makers by a 6 to 2 score in the second quarter, and going strong, when the break came. Zell, Jordan, Boxwell and Holton left the game in quick succession from injuries, and Xenia with a makeshift backfield, was unable to stem the tide, the game ending in Middletown's favor, via the forfeit route.

In the game last Friday, with the big eleven from Greenville, Xenia started off like a million dollars, only to be completely baffled by one simple trick play which worked three times for scores, and a decisive defeat. In this contest, the locals were again handicapped when Holten and Scurry, towers of strength in the backfield, were forced to discontinue play, Holton, with a broken nose, and Scurry, with a twisted ankle. Zell, captain and luminary on the team, played through the game with an infected foot, which bothered him considerably. This week with the injured taking it easy, the lineup should be intact from end to end and in the backfield, by Saturday. Following the Springfield game, Xenia will have completed almost half of its schedule, but with five more teams to play. High gridders still have games with Troy, Greenville, Roosevelt, Wilmington and Washington C. H., in the order named, the first three being played at Cox Memorial Field. The Miamisburg game having been canceled, the Thanksgiving attraction will be at Washington C. H.

The home lads have shown improvement in their aerial defense, as not a pass was completed by Greenville in the last game, and the backfield work should be up to standard by Saturday. The line held like a stone wall in the last game, with the exception of the times when the trick play was tried, and is expected to do even better Saturday. There is promised a great all-around improvement in the entire team.

"PEP" DINNER FOR CENTRAL GRIDDERS

A combined pep meeting and banquet is planned for Central High School's football squad Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the cafeteria at Central High School.

The banquet is for the coach and players alone and is to be just a "get-together" meeting to arouse enthusiasm in the coming game with Springfield High School at Springfield Saturday afternoon.

"After dinner" speeches will probably be given by Coach John Ballantyne and Captain Allen Zell, with regard to the important game Saturday, and it is aimed to have most of the student body attend the game, to offset the cheering section of Springfield.

MRS. MAY STOIBER TALKS AT ANTIOCH

Yellow Springs, O., Oct. 23.—The talk which Mrs. May Cornell Stoiber of Cincinnati will give at Antioch College Vesper Service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock promises to be of special interest to students, faculty members, and all persons interested in the Antioch co-operative plan.

Mrs. Stoiber comes to Antioch on the recommendation of the A. Nash Company, wholesale tailors, of Cincinnati, which has branch companies in sixteen cities of the United States. Arthur Nash, president of the Company has developed the "Nash Plan" of co-ownership of industry by workers, and although her subject has not been announced, it is thought Mrs. Stoiber will talk about this plan.

Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced

Never mind what people say, if you have varicose or swollen veins and want to reduce them to normal, go to Sayre & Hemphill and ask for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength). If he hasn't it, he can get it.

Apply it to the enlarged veins as directed and improvement will be noticed in a few days. Continue its use until veins return to normal size. It is guaranteed to reduce swollen veins or money back, and also to reduce swollen glands, goitre and wens.

The East Side Athletics will put an entirely revamped eleven on the field Sunday against the Columbus team at Dickerson Park it is announced by Coach Jefferies.

The Athletics-Columbus fuss is looked upon by local fans as the biggest scrap of the season, and the Athletics, not having been able to boast of a victory on the gridiron this season, are out to redeem themselves at the expense of the Columbus outfit.

The Columbus outfit was formerly known as the Columbus American Legion team in recent years and played in Xenia last year against the Athletics. The Athletics were to have played the Hamilton American Legion team Sunday at Dickerson Park, but Manager W. O. Rickman, received word Thursday morning that Hamilton could not fill the date, and the game was cancelled.

The initial game showed up numerous mistakes in the Athletics' play, but these have been weeded out in recent practice sessions, and with the addition of several new players, the local team is fortified in all departments for this important game.

The teams average about equal in the matter of weight, each with a heavy line and a fast backfield. The teams average about 160 pounds from end to end.

The game will start at the usual time, 2:30 o'clock, with an official from Wilberforce University in charge.

CURRIE BROTHERS ON GRID SQUADS AT OHIO WESLEYAN

Delaware, Oct. 23.—Arthur Currie of 217 West Church Street, Xenia, is one of thirty-six freshmen who still remain on the Ohio Wesleyan football squad following the final cut in the squad which was recently made by the Freshmen coaches.

At the beginning of the football season at Wesleyan sixty men, the largest in the history of the school, reported for training to Coaches Welch, Santen and Sacksteder. Since that time the mediocre material has gradually been weeded out until the Freshmen mentors now feel that they have thirty-six men who will give a good account of themselves not only for the rest of the season but also on the varsity squad next season.

The present Freshmen gridiron squad is 'one of the strongest that Wesleyan has had in a number of years and throughout the season has given the varsity some real opposition in the practice scrimmages, which have been held each night, which have been held each night, Raymond Swain of Martins Ferry, Ohio was recently elected captain of the squad.

The squad this year has been exceptionally fortunate in having three experienced coaches. "Doc" Welch, who has acted as head coach, is a Wesleyan football star of years gone by who has been on the job for many years in Delaware during the football season. Staten and Sacksteder are both stars from the championship team which Wesleyan turned out last season.

Currie made two touchdowns for the yearlings recently in a game against the varsity second team. His brother, Don Currie is a member of the Wesleyan varsity squad.

XENIA SEMINARY EXPECTS BIG YEAR

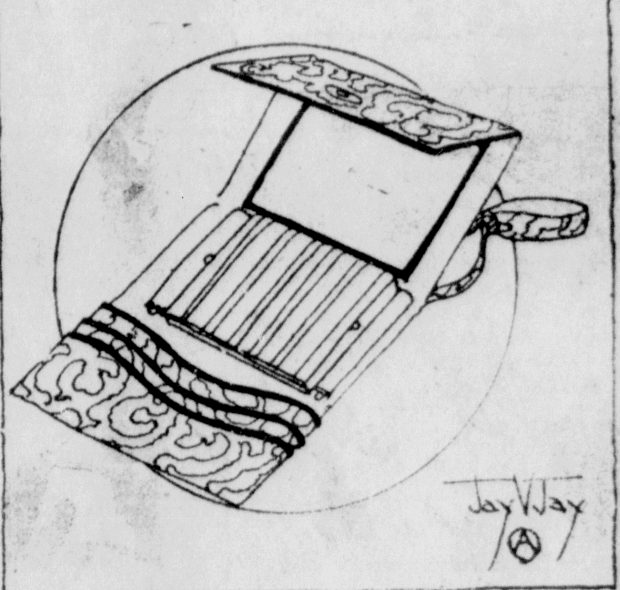

The Xenia Theological Seminary at St. Louis, Mo., formerly located in this city, entered its hundred and thirty-first year of service, September 24, with one of the largest enrollments in the history of the school.

The two upper classes have been enlarged by the addition of several new students while the junior class has a membership of fifteen with the prospect of more coming in. With the influx of students and the addition of Dr. G. Boone McCreary to the faculty, all signs point to a most successful year, according to seminary officials.

MODISH MITZI—What's Newest? Mitzi Knows

Flowers, gardenias and camellias aren't new. But this very large variety of flower is. Sometimes these are a brilliant red, sometimes a lacquered leather; sometimes shaded tones that blend in browns, greens and yellows. Whether for evening, street, or sports wear, depends on the color and hardness of the flower.

Handkerchiefs of the novelty kind are not particularly new. But the hand painted ones are the last word. Gay, brilliant, gypsy colors are novel and preferred. The hand-painting is used for geometric designs as well as figures of all kinds.

The little vanity bag with its beaded flower trimming came from France so of course it is new in this country at least. It is just big enough to carry a powder puff and a few other essentials. The bag, also beaded, is somewhat of a compromise between an envelope and a purse.

This is another vanity bag of foreign birth. It is made out of a figured brocade silk. It all folds up very compactly. It has room for cigarettes in addition to the regular mirror and cosmetic accessories.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Missouri.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken twelve bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

The man's steps died away along the rear end of the passage. Joan heard the two men talking again. Then the sounds ceased. She heard the floor in the adjoining room creak beneath a quick tread. Lancaster was coming in! Her fears gave her resolution. She would anticipate that movement, see him, insist. She left the waiting room and went into the hall.

It was hung with little pictures of a uniform size, each exactly like its neighbor. It came into the girl's mind, even during those few hasty steps, that this was essentially a man's house; a woman would have arranged things differently, have given the place personality, have made her presence felt somehow, even in the decoration of this dark passage. The atmosphere was that of an institution, not of a home.

Then she was standing with caught breath at the door of the consulting room, which was a little ajar, as if the catch had become unfastened. She knocked, opened it, and went in.

She found herself in a large, lighted room, with the sense of an institution, though it was well furnished. She saw the white enameled table, the glass case full of instruments, the empty court outside; then John Lancaster himself, alone, standing with bent head behind a chair, on which he was leaning.

As Joan entered an inner door began to open. Joan knew that the man with whom Lancaster had been quarreling was inside a room behind it. She dreaded lest he should come in; but suddenly the door closed.

She looked at Lancaster again. It was still quite light within the consulting room, but Lancaster, standing with his back to the window, was in silhouette, so that Joan could not see his face clearly.

"Well, madam?" he asked, raising his head.

"I came to speak to you about this morning," began Joan hurriedly. "It means—"

He indicated a chair. He was gazing at her with some embarrassment—Joan thought because of the scene in which he had just participated. "Tell me the trouble," he began, as she seated herself, drawing up his own chair toward hers.

Now Joan could see his face, and to her astonishment, it did not bear the expression of the smirking bully whom she had seen that morning, nor yet of the man who had addressed another man in such terms as one might use to a slave. It was not an unkindly face. And it was unmistakably that of a sick man.

For a moment she remembered the stories told of his behavior in the operating theater, of the gentleness that seemed to transform the man, as if he possessed a dual personality. Then she was recalled to herself by Lancaster's repetition of his remark.

Joan rose up hastily. She realized that the doctor had mistaken her for a patient. Her face meant nothing to him, any more than her distress of the day had affected him. With a nervous movement she unfastened her cloak, disclosing her uniform.

"I am Miss Wentworth," she explained. "I came to tell you—I came to say—" Then, treading out her pride once more, "I came to ask if you won't reconsider your decision to suspend me. My work means everything to me. It is my life work, my vocation. I always wanted to be a nurse. I felt that it was my task to help alleviate suffering. Doctor Lancaster, apart from my own interests, I want to graduate to be able to help others. Won't you give me another opportunity?"

She spoke with her hands unconsciously clasped before her; the recollection of her earlier hopes, the thought of their frustration brought a quiver into her voice. When she stopped she saw that Lancaster was looking at her with obvious interest.

"Tell me about this morning," he said quietly.

"I had to come away without breakfast, and the fumes of the ether made me faint. I was nearly fainting when you asked me for the scalpel, and I couldn't see the tray. Indeed it was not the operation that made me ill. I have never been reprimanded before. The lady superintendent had told me several times that the hospital appreciated my work. So I hoped you would be willing to overlook my blunder and let me graduate."

Lancaster looked at her with a singular expression that seemed to mask his thoughts. She could not tell how her plea had impressed him. When he spoke she was dumfounded by the harshness and casualness of his tone.

"Why have you come to my house about this?" he asked. "This is not my hour for seeing patients—I mean people."

"I am sorry if I did wrong!" cried the girl. "But if you knew how much it means to me—"

"I can do nothing for you now," said Lancaster.

The voice was harsh again, but curiously flat, as if he was trying to restrain his emotions, hold himself in; as if he was afraid. . . . but afraid of what? Not of his anger.

Gives advice to Expectant Mothers.

"I HAD an awful time with my first baby," writes Mrs. Theo. Willey, 431 E. Ohio St., Indianapolis, Ind. "They had to give me chloroform and use instruments. They thought I would die. But before my second baby came I used 'Mother's Friend' and baby was born with only a few pains and before a doctor could arrive. I also used 'Mother's Friend' with my third baby. I was only sick a little while and she also was born before the doctor arrived. I cannot praise 'Mother's Friend' enough. I tell every one I see who is expecting to become a mother about 'Mother's Friend.'"

Washington, Oct. 23.—Asserting that the "consent decree" entered six years ago against the International Harvester Company, has failed to restore competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry, the government today in the federal court at St. Paul, supplemental proceedings to bring about an effective dissolution of the mammoth corporation.

"The action is aimed at removing the harvesting machine industry from a monopoly charged against the International Company and to afford proper protection to the farmers and owners dependent upon agricultural machinery obtainable at reasonable prices," it was announced at the department of justice.

At the harvesters trade is a violation of restraint of trade and monopoly in violation of sections 2 of the Sherman law is hereby established by the decision of the court which stands reversed and unmodified," Attorney General Stone's brief declared.

The present proceedings should be confined with a trial of the de novo to ascertain whether International Harvester Company today is violating the law.

The only question in issue and the question which the court has jurisdiction to consider under the reservation in the decree is whether the decree has had the effect to restore competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry.

Stone said the government holds that "the relief sought and the relief provided for by the consent decree has failed to restore proper competitive conditions."

"One of two things ought to be done, the attorney general said. Either the judges who decided this case ought to be reversed upon the ground that their decision was wholly erroneous and that there never was justification for dissolution, or else dissolution should be decreed."

The consent decree of six years ago provided that the International Harvester Co. should be enjoined from having more than one representative in a given locality and that the company should dispose of certain lines of harvesting machinery, and plants unlawfully acquired by the acquisition of certain competing companies.

"The government then charged," Stone continued, "that the International Harvester Company was a combination in restraint of trade and a monopoly in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust law."

"It was evident at that time, in view of the properties to be disposed of and those to be retained by the harvester company, the relief thus granted by the consent decree would in all likelihood prove inadequate in restoring competitive conditions in the harvesting machine industry."

"A clause, therefore, was embodied in the decree providing for a test in which the effect of the decree might be judged."

In this brief, filed in St. Paul, the attorney general asserted that "not in had the consent decree not effected any substantial competition during the test period, but that, to the contrary, during the period, eight years after the harvester company's competition in the harvester line, went out of business and the company's percentage of the total business actually increased for the selling season of 1922, which was included in the period."

The terms of the agreement were reached in a conference between the corporation and the attorney general. "The test period" expired May 1, 1923, after which the department of justice issued an opinion of the result of the agreement. In 1923, the government filed a supplemental petition asking for an effective dissolution in accordance with the plan recommended by the trade commission.

"It is very clear," the attorney general said, "that congress has never departed from the policy of competition first ordained by the Sherman act. The history of the times, the debates in congress and the circumstances surrounding passage of the Sherman act, made it clear that it was aimed principally at the great corporate interests."

TYPIST'S HUSBAND HELD FOR SHOOTING FORMER LEGION HEAD

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—Colonel John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion, was shot while in his office here and wounded in the arm. Police are holding the husband of Emery's stenographer in connection with the shooting. Two shots were fired, one going astray and the other hitting the former legion chief in the fleshy part of his right arm.

The assailant, Seydel Simpson, waited in the office until arrival of the police. When taken to police headquarters Simpson said Emery was trying to break up his family. He would not elaborate on this other than saying Mrs. Simpson was suing for divorce. At the hospital Colonel Emery denied any part in the family trouble between his stenographer and her husband. Mrs. Simpson also denied her husband's charges.

Colonel Emery, who is 43 years old and married, could give no reason why Simpson singled him out as the cause of his domestic troubles. The man's wife, according to Emery, has been employed in the real estate office only a fortnight and he had never seen either Simpson or Mrs. Simpson before that time.

SELZNICK COMPANY IS IN BANKRUPTCY

New York, Oct. 23.—On claims totaling $3,000 Federal Judge Winslow of the Southern district of New York was appointed receiver for the Selznick Distributing corporation, petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy by three creditors. The corporation was formed in April, 1923, when the Select Pictures corporation was absorbed. C. J. Doolittle of Trenton Falls, N. Y., was elected president and authoritative information says that debts of an old organization amounting to more than $1,000,000 were paid off in a single year. Lewis J. Selznick left the firm at this reorganization. A short time ago the corporation is said to have planned further changes, eliminating the name "Selznick." No assets or liabilities were mentioned in the papers filed in court.

HOWARD FAVORABLE TO DAWES PROGRAM

New York, Oct. 23.—Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, declared here that although the Dawes reparation plan has been in operation but a short time, there is "more hope, more good will and more charity abroad in Europe than there has been for 10 years at least. It is not almost from time immemorial." The ambassador referred to past activities of certain concession hunters and company promoters in world fields, which sometimes have threatened the peace of the world. He declared there is "only one way to eliminate this possible danger to peace and good will and that is by the strict application of the American doctrine of the 'open door.'"

DENIES SAYING RUSSIA IS BACK OF LA FOLLETTE

Washington, Oct. 23.—The senate committee probing campaign contributions questioned Chairman T. V. O'Connor of the United States shipping board regarding his alleged statement that some of the money for Senator La Follette's campaign was sent here by soviet Russia.

The witness admitted he had no foundation for his hint that soviet Russia was sending money to aid the presidential campaign of La Follette. "I didn't make any such statement," said O'Connor and read from a speech in which he asked: "How much money was sent in from soviet Russia to win this fight?" "I was asking a question," he said.

"That is not a question, but a declaration," interposed Senator Cawley of Arkansas.

O'Connor said that he had heard the rumors from engineers and shipping men coming from Russia and that he "believed in his heart" soviet Russia was aiding the La Follette campaign. He said he made the statement to have it denied by "some one in authority."

O'Connor said he advanced about $360 to Joseph Ryan, first vice president of the Longshoremen's association, to pay hotel and taxi bills incurred here by a delegation of longshoremen who visited President Coolidge on Labor day. Ryan has since returned the money, O'Connor said.

Samuel Untermyer then took up the cross-examination and asked O'Connor if he had not read La Follette's statement issued last year on his return from Russia in which the Wisconsin senator declared himself opposed to the soviet government. The witness said he did not recall the statement.

"Did you mean to convey to your audience that the soviet government was financing Senator La Follette's campaign?" asked Untermyer. "I wanted my question answered," O'Connor replied.

O'Connor objected to Untermyer's questioning when the lawyer asked if O'Connor had arranged with the president or C. Bascom Slemple, secretary to Coolidge, to bring the labor delegation to Washington on Labor day. When Borah told him to answer O'Connor said that both the president and Slemple were out of the city at the time the meeting was arranged.

Joseph R. Grundy, worsted manufacturer of Bristol, Pa., and chairman of the Pennsylvania ways and means committee of the Republican national committee, said his organization had raised $365,000 up to date in 53 counties in Pennsylvania outside of the Pittsburgh district. W. L. Mellon, a relative of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, is in charge of raising money in that district, he said.

Edward P. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, partner of J. P. Morgan, denied the information reaching Senator La Follette that he had been named at the recent convention of the American Bankers' association at Chicago to head a committee to solicit funds from the bankers of the country to aid the Republican national or other tickets. Stotesbury told of collecting approximately $50,000 in Philadelphia for the Grundy committee, of which he is a member. Both Stotesbury and Grundy told the committee that they had no knowledge of the collection of funds for the Republican campaign by any Pennsylvania organization except the ways and means committee, the Union league and the Manufacturers' club. They disclaimed any knowledge of special and independent efforts to raise funds among the bankers and business men.

New York, Oct. 23.—Detectives say Helen Pelrose, 24, who was arrested in a Jersey City laundry, where she was employed as a sorter, has confessed that she was the lure by which a Boston blackmail ring of lawyers extorted $60,000 from Albert Victor Searles, millionaire artist. She is being held for extradition to Boston, where she is wanted on four counts charging conspiracy and other offenses. While she told police that her name was Pelrose and that she had been employed in the laundry two years, the police declared she was Eleanor Barnes, alias Sheila Barton, and a half dozen other names.

AUTOS MORE DEADLY THAN TYPHOID FEVER SAYS CENSUS BUREAU

Columbus, Oct. 23.—According to the federal census bureau, more than 1,000 persons were killed in Ohio by automobiles during the year 1923. The gasoline machines are shown to have been three times as fatal as typhoid fever and 180 times as fatal as smallpox. However, auto accidents were only one-fifth as fatal to Buckeyes as tuberculosis and cancer.

Autos killed 1,078 persons in Ohio last year, the census bureau has just announced, an increase of such fatalities from 818 in 1922. Compared with the 1,078 auto accident deaths in Ohio in 1923, records show typhoid caused 395 deaths, smallpox only six, tuberculosis 5,250 and cancer 5,791.

There were 14,412 deaths caused by autos in the United States last year, census bureau figures show. This was a death rate of 17.6 persons per 100,000 population, four more than the average rate of 1922 and one-third more than the rate of 11.8 persons in 1918, when the government first began assembling these statistics. The Ohio rate is 2.7 per cent higher than the average for the nation.

Akron, with a rate of but 12 deaths per 100,000 residents, has the lowest of the state and one of the lowest in the nation. Cincinnati is highest in the state, with a rate of 25.1 persons; Youngstown is 24.6 persons, Toledo 23.4, Cleveland 22.8 and Columbus 22.2.

Deaths in these cities the previous year was: Akron 16.6, Cincinnati 18.8, Cleveland 16.6, Columbus 14.5, Toledo 17.3 and Youngstown 24.6. While fatalities were increased in other cities, they actually were decreasing, proportionately to population, in Akron, which incidentally has steadily decreased its auto death rate since 1918. With the exception of Youngstown, which showed a rate of 31.9 persons in 1918, other cities have increased their auto death rate.

Deaths caused from automobile accidents last year were: Akron 40, Cincinnati 102, Cleveland 203, Columbus 58, Toledo 63 and Youngstown 37. Deaths the previous year were: Akron 25, Cincinnati 76, Cleveland 102, Columbus 37, Toledo 45, Youngstown 27.

NAVAL OFFICER QUESTIONED IN OIL LEASE SUIT

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—In the government suit to cancel the lease and contracts of naval oil reserve properties to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, Commander H. G. Stuart, United States navy, formerly officer in charge of the naval fuel oil reserves at Washington, was called to prove that a disagreement existed in the navy department concerning these leases, that the navy officer had not been in accord with the policy and was subsequently removed from office.

Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, asked Stuart to relate his dealings with Secretary of Interior Fall prior to the granting of the leases to the Pan-American interests. Stuart said:

"After it was decided to make the lease, Admiral Griffin and I went to Secretary Fall and told him we had heard the United Midway was to be given the lease on part of No. 1. We objected to this and said it was not necessary to drill wells. Fall said he had already taken it up with the president, and had met with his approval. Fall said he would get proof of the approval, but did not until later. We left and went to the navy building and were then summoned back and shown the approval of the president. Shortly after the leases were divided."

Introduction of testimony was preceded by offering of documentary evidence, including the withdrawal order of President Taft, by which the Elk Hills oil lands were withdrawn from public entry; the executive order by President Harding in 1921 directing that administration of the naval oil reserves be transferred to the department of the interior from the navy department, and other documents bearing on the case.

E. L. Doherty is controlling shareholder in the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company. The leases in question are valued at $100,000,000, for the granting of which the government charges Doherty paid $100,000 to Fall.

DAVIS PLEDGES TO EXTEND PRESERVES FOR GAME IN STATE

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23.—In his speech here Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, said, if elected, he proposed extending game preserves over Ohio so that the state would occupy an enviable position in the reforestation program of the country and would present many places suitable for camping and hunting grounds.

"A million acres of land are available in this state for such work," he said. "We propose to buy much of this land and establish more game preserves, and we propose to do it without increases in taxes and without increased cost of operating the state's activities."

"Speaking of the cost of the state's activities, I want to say that this is one of the things I would like to have Governor Donahy explain. For weeks I have been demanding that he go before the people and tell them why it is that the running expenses of the state have increased $900,000 a year since we left office. I have asked for other explanations, but none have been forthcoming."

BRITISH POLITICAL MEE TINGS BROKEN UP BY RIOTING OF LABORITES-SEVERAL HURT

London, Oct. 23.—Increasingly ugly temper was evidenced today in reports of disorders at political meetings in all parts of the country with the election less than a week away. Several meetings ended in riots and in some places candidates and partisans were injured in the violence of demonstrations.

Stones flew in a demonstration against H. C. Hogbin, Liberal candidate of Battersea, who suffered a painful injury of one eye. The same rowdies hooted and howled at Hogbin's wife.

Sir Auckland Geddes, formerly ambassador to the United States, was forced to abandon his address at a Tory meeting at Hulme when wild disorders broke out.

Tables and chairs were overturned and a free for all fight took the place of political speeches after Sir Robert Horne had been howled down at Glasgow. In a fight at a meeting at Lambeth, an usher was slashed with a razor and was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

Lady Astor sparred with hecklers for over an hour, then was forced to give up the attempt to continue a meeting at Plymouth, where she is a candidate for re-election to commons.

The crowd shouted: "Raise the red flag; then we'll listen to you," to which Lady Astor retorted: "You won't listen because you don't want to hear the truth."

Meanwhile, children had torn the Tory banners from Lady Astor's car and put up labor banners in their place. Former Premier Asquith encountered such a blast of heckling at Lambeth that he was forced to suspend his meeting for a time.

Labor headquarters, while regretting the demonstrations that intense feeling have started, denied any responsibility for the outbreaks. The

Other schools in the Ohio High School Athletic association have threatened to cancel games with Scott because Meese and Johnson are playing. It is said. Should any of the schools refuse to play, damage actions may be filed against them if it is found that such action is justified. Meese and Johnson were barred on the ground that they did not attend school last semester.

WORKERS STILL DIGGING AFTER MINERS' BODIES

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 23.—Rescue workers were still digging the debris-filled shaft of the Hart Coal Company mine here today for four men entombed by an explosion late last night. The blast killed three miners and buried nine others, five of whom escaped through an abandoned shaft.

The explosion, believed caused by a "windy shot" occurred in shaft No. 9, 220 feet under ground, less than half an hour after the day force of 250 left the workings. It wrecked the fanhouse and tippie, jammed the cage in the shaft and left the community in darkness as it tore down high tension electric wires running near the mine.

The dead are believed to be Paul Wheeler, shot firer; Tom Chinn, electrician and William Joyce, Chinn's helper.

BODY IN CLOSET OF VACANT HOUSE

Canton, O., Oct. 23.—The body of Warren B. Reynolds, 52, was found in a closet of a vacant house here Wednesday night by a woman employed to clean the house for a new occupant. Reynolds is said to have a sister in Barborton and a brother living north of Massillon.

Police said they learned from workmen at the Cramer Livery Company that Reynolds received a bad fall in the stable Monday night and was advised to go to a doctor for treatment.

The men said he promised to go to a physician. When next heard from, he was dead. Police are of the belief that he failed to see a doctor and sought refuge in the vacant house where he died as the result of the injury to his head.

Mrs. McClung said Banks hit her on the head with a spirit level, splintering the instrument. She said Banks then hit her husband with a mason's hammer.

"After he struck both of us and I looked on though he intended to kill us," Mrs. McClung told police, "I picked up the ax and struck at his head."

"The helve of the weapon hit Banks on top of the head and peeled the scalp from the forehead to the crown." Banks' wounds were sewed up and the other two victims of the fight are in a serious condition. The fight started, police say, as the result of a two days quarrel over domestic affairs. ## CROWDS BRAVING CHILLY WEATHER TO ATTEND TRADE SHOW

The third night of the Elks' Exposition and Trade Show at the Dodds Addition at Detroit and Church Sts., was well attended by local fun-lovers, and in spite of the chilly weather that has done much to keep the crowds down to average size, the attendance was larger than on either of the two preceding days, and automobiles lined both West and East Church St., for several blocks.

The Merchants' Exhibit especially proved attractive to the crowd, where the big canvas tent sheltered the populace from the biting weather. Concessionaires did a rousing business with their innumerable attractions, but when the dance hall opened up later in the evening, this place again proved the mecca for the crowd as was the case on the preceding days. The "great white way" was brilliantly lighted and the entire grounds quickly took on a bustling appearance soon after the gates were thrown open with the crowd rushing here and there from one attraction to another, in an endeavor to "take them all in." Many new cars have been added to the automobile show and it is now assured that practically every make of car sold in the county is on exhibition in the biggest tent of the entire show. The festival is proving to be a big success in spite of the cold weather that probably keeps many people away from the attraction and the exposition besides being the first of its nature ever held in the county is one of the most popular.

Is Starvation Wrestling Life from the Men and Women of Today?

Grave Conclusions Are Drawn as Result of Startling Revelations; 40% of All School Children Said to be Under-Nourished.

Physicians and Other Thinkers See in Pure Cod Liver Oil Blessed Relief to Young and Old Who Are Underfed.

Greatest Of All Builders Now May Be Had in New Easy-to-Take Form Called CocoCod.

Is starvation gnawing at the roots of our civilization, sapping the vitality of man, woman and child? It would seem so, according to scientists, who draw grave conclusions from the results of a recent investigation in our public schools.

Among all students examined, fully 40 per cent were found to be victims of mal-nutrition and vitamin deficiency—literally starving in the midst of plenty. Physicians and other constructive thinkers see in this condition the reason for much of the ill health of our adult population. Men and women are pale, nervous, broken-down shadows of what they might be, simply because their systems have been starved from early youth. They need the strength and vigor of good rich, red blood—the kind that comes from ample vitamin content in the food.

And they can have it! For in this emergency doctors are turning to pure Norwegian cod liver oil and successfully combating this newly discovered evil through an intensive feeding or building process. However, in youngsters and even among grown-ups, the taste of cod liver oil has prevented its wide use.

Now, by a fortunate circumstance, there has been recently brought to public notice pure cod liver oil in a new, easy-to-take form—and with the addition of A, B, C and D vitamins. Leading medical lights declare it a blessing to men, women and children who are under-nourished because their systems do not derive from their food the vitamins needed to build sound, firm flesh, calm nerves and pure blood.

CocoCod, as its name indicates, has the pleasant taste of rich cocoa. Children welcome it and thrive on it. It is truly amazing even in old age how it quickens the eliminative organs, builds greater nerve force and sends rich, red blood pulsing through bodies which formerly drooped under the weight of years. It contains in concentrated form those vital elements which our modern cooking and baking have taken from our food, such as the vitamins found in spinach and cabbage, rice polishings, eggs and yeast—all blended in pure Norwegian cod liver oil and rendered palatable by the addition of rich cocoa.

Is cod liver oil at last to come into its own as a means of rescue from threatened starvation of our race? Physicians and teachers believe that it is, and are advising mothers to give their children the benefit of this strength-insuring food, and not to deny themselves its healthful influence.

Local druggists have arranged to distribute CocoCod, and like our physicians and teachers, have been fully advised concerning its value in the present emergency.—Adv.

1 Slashed state taxes $12,000,000 annually—boldly abolished State tax levy, thereby saving a tremendous sum of money for people of Ohio every year.

2 At the close of his term of office turned over to his successor the gigantic cash balance of $20,500,000, unprecedented in Ohio history; and this in spite of a deficit left him by the previous administration.

3 Overcoming odds of gigantic opposition, installed the first business-like form of government in Ohio, abolishing hundreds of sinecures and destroying wastefulness under which public funds had been squandered in the past.

4 Installed a monthly budget system, under which each department must show 12 times yearly it has not spent more than a twelfth of its appropriation, making short work of recklessness with public funds.

5 By large road construction program, added to bring the farmer and city dweller in a closer contact, enabling the farmer to market his products more profitably.

6 Built 1,800 miles of new substantial roadway at an average cost of $4,000 less per mile than under the Donahay regime, as compared with only a few hundred miles constructed under Donahay.

7 Paid Ohio ex-service men adjusted compensation aggregating $32,500,000 of which $7,500,000 was taken from the state treasury, this having been made possible by tremendous savings.

8 Reduced unsettled workmen's compensation claims from 9,000 to 2,000 and increased this fund $9,000,000. Interest alone on the fund grew over $1,000,000.

9 Made Ohio a leader in law enforcement with arrests and convictions in nearly 7,000 cases, which netted the state $2,500,000 in fines or assessed liquor taxes.

10 Gave Ohio a business-like administration, a square deal, the sort of good government that highly recommends his return to office.

ENGLAND'S BIG SOAP TRUST HAS 3,000 EMPLOYE-OWNERS

England's big soap trust has just had its annual co-partnership meeting, a great assembly of 3000 employees of Lever Bros., Ltd. This annual meeting is unique and invariably attracts a high degree of attention. It is one of England's yearly events.

These 3,000 employees hold $16,000,000 worth of stock in the soap trust. They receive about $1,000,000 a year in dividends. And every year they meet in a large auditorium in Liverpool to receive their dividends and to hear a word of praise from the head of the business—Lord Leverhulme.

Lever Bros., Ltd. is the parent company of the soap trust. It has $350,000,000 in assets and 60,000 shareholders, to whom it pays 17 1/2 per cent. It now controls 85 per cent of the soap business of Great Britain and it has made $95,000,000 in profits in the last five years.

In spite of its enormous size, this soap trust is a one man business. It was created by one man—Lord Leverhulme—and he still has absolute control of it. Lord Leverhulme is now seventy-three years old. He is one of the half dozen richest men in Great Britain and, now that Hugo Stinnes is dead, he is probably the most powerful manufacturer.

Lord Leverhulme has always been the master of his own affairs. He has never been controlled by a bank or a Board of Directors. He is the champion of profit-sharing and the six-hour day in England. He does not believe in a class war between labor and capital. He believes that capital should take the risks and the control, but that it should share its prosperity with labor. He advocates co-partnership, not as a humanitarian nor an idealist, but as the most practical way to secure the loyalty and enthusiasm of the employees.

He is a pioneer in town planning, too. He has built a model town—Port Sunlight, near Liverpool. This town covers three square miles and is one of the sights of England.—Written for the Public Ledger from London by H. N. Casson.

HUNGARY IS COMING BACK TO HER OWN

With the German loan floated and the Dawes plan successfully inaugurated, fresh interest attaches to the Hungarian reconstruction effort. It will be recalled that after the adoption of the plan prepared by the Financial Committee of the League of Nations and the signing of excellent protocols by the neighboring States, a $50,000,000 Hungarian reconstruction loan was floated in the markets of Europe and America. Meanwhile, Jeremiah Smith Jr., of Boston, had been installed as commissioner general in charge of Hungary's finances.

Five months have now elapsed since Mr. Smith took charge and the plan is working nicely. In his fourth monthly report for August, he states that the budget deficits are proving smaller than he had estimated. Actual revenue collections are larger than those that were expected when he set up his budgets a few months ago.

RECIPES WE HAVE TESTED

The Gazette-Republican has a number of home tried recipes handed in by women of the city at the time of the Gazette-Republican Home Makers Cooking School recently conducted in this city. These recipes will be published each day under the above heading until all of the recipes presented at that time have been used. Women of the city and county are invited to send in their favorite recipes and these will be published for the benefit of the other women of the community. If sufficient interest is manifested in the new department it will be continued indefinitely.

I took her to the circus, and she watched an acrobat hanging by his toes above us, and she cried:

She saw the juggler juggling his cigar, his cane and hat, and I had to say I couldn't, when she asked:
"Can you do that?"

"Can you do that?" she shouted when the trained seal caught a ball.
"Can you do that?" she questioned at each marvel great or small; And when the spangled lady, among the roaring lions sat, I had to say I couldn't when she cried:
"Can you do that?"

The strong man held a dozen of his golf clubs in air.
A man there was who wrestled with a most ferocious bear.
The iron-jawed performer with his teeth bent metals flat;
And every feat that thrilled her she exclaimed: "Can you do that?"

I am still her doting daddy, she still climbs upon my knee,
But I'm not the wonder-worker that last month I used to be;
I'm a shattered, dusty idol, since the circus traveled through,
For my baby has discovered there is much I cannot do.

Thin, Worn-Out Folks Read What Minister Says About Glands

AND WHAT MEDICAL SCIENCE HAS DONE TO BRING BACK YOUTHFUL ENERGY, AND GOOD SOLID FLESH.

In the newspapers of the entire country, a well known New York minister of the gospel recently repeats and emphasizes this amazing fact: "In the physical body," states the Reverend Doctor, "We know that when the thyroid gland wastes away, physical and mental degeneracy take place. Nobody knows why, but it is so."

When the glands in your body wear out or become exhausted, you lose the vigor of healthy manhood or womanhood, you become sluggish, cranky, nervous, aged. But when you renew these dried-up glands with fresh gland extract your vitality returns, you put on weight, you sleep, eat, and feel 100 per cent better, in most cases (just as you would recharge a dry or storage battery with new energy.

The famous Kath gland specialists have applied all the findings of Medical science to the final discovery of a gland treatment within the reach of everybody's purse. At the age of 60 a man can now feel 60 Years Young—Not 60 Years Old, by taking the Kath gland treatment for two or three weeks.

Thin young men and women, nervous, worn out middle-aged folks—all can build up and be strong in a few weeks' time.

The following authorized Kath agent will sell you the marvelous KATH treatment and will absolutely guarantee it to give you real benefits or not cost you one cent.

NOT SO FAST!

We need to "Fletcherize" life. Everything is movement. Time more time, not enough time is what we hear day after day.

But there is plenty of time. The big man takes no more time to do a big job than the little man takes to do a little job.

The same instrument in one man's hands performs wonders and is useless in another's.

It's the way everything is used, including time, that counts.

Do with all your might while you do—then rest. Not so fast. Take your time. The better you do your work the more permanent it will be. The more fun you will get out of it. The more health, too.

I remember playing golf with a well known hotel owner. He couldn't wait for the others to play after he had played. He wanted to be right off the tee. And of course he not only spoiled his own game but the game of those with whom he played.

I have noticed that those who do the most do it easily, methodically, surely. They have no complaint about time either. It's the fellow with his desk loaded and with only so many hours in which to work who does little.

Not so fast—but clean up as you go is a good motto for any worker.

The more fun and helpfulness you can weave into your work the happier you are bound to be.

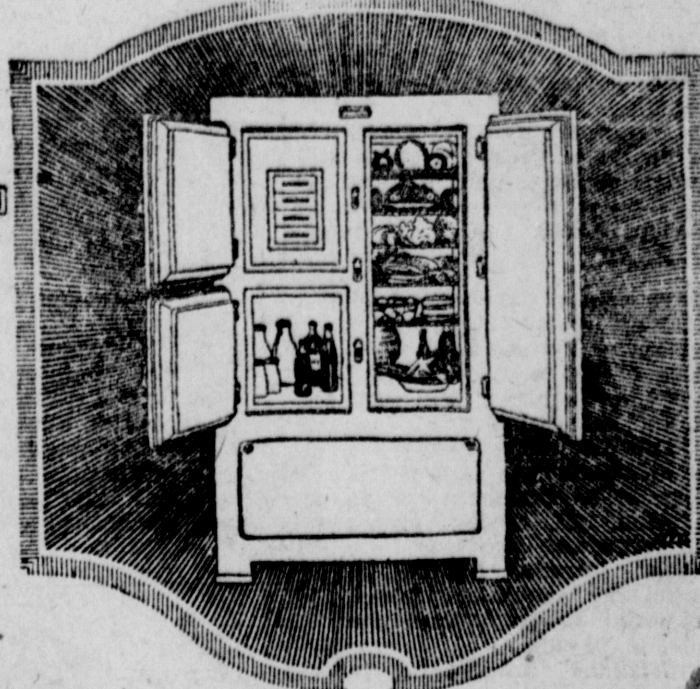

Arrange things so that life wears well. Try to determine your pace and then keep it up—but vary it with all sorts of interests.

It is wonderful how much can be achieved through system and a proper arrangement of your time and abilities.

Folks who go too fast nearly always lose themselves.

S. L. Midler, former Xenian, assistant road foreman of engines at Lancaster, O., Zanesville branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has been placed on the Roll of Honor of the company, closing a period of forty-four years in the active service of the company.

Mr. Midler entered the service as fireman in September, 1880 and was promoted to engineer in September, 1884. He was made acting assistant road foreman of engines August 20, 1899 and in July 1900 he was assigned to special duty as air brake instructor. Mr. Midler was appointed road foreman of engines March 15, 1901, in which capacity he served until January 1, 1904, when he was appointed assistant trainmaster at Cincinnati. Mr. Midler became trainmaster July 1, 1906 and was transferred to Zanesville Division February 1, 1923 as road foreman of engines. When the Zanesville Division was merged with the Cincinnati Division January 16, 1924, Mr. Midler was made assistant foreman of engines at Lancaster.

Owing to his physical condition, which has not been satisfactory in recent years, Mr. Midler requested last June that he be retired. His request was granted by special action of the board of directors.

Mr. Midler was born at Bainbridge, O., September 15, 1861. In April 1903 he was chosen by T. W. Demarest, then superintendent of motive power of the old Southwest System, to represent him in assisting in the compilation of the first book of "Rules Governing the Employment of Firemen and Outline of Examination for their Promotion to Engineer."

Mr. Hilberry represented D. F. Crawford then superintendent of motive power of the old Northwest system and these two men finally completed a set of rules which were approved by the general manager.

Mr. Midler is widely known over the entire system but particularly on the lines west of Pittsburgh.

AMATEUR STARS IN LEGION MINSTREL

The minstrels will be directed by Charles Gano, veteran minstrel man, who was largely responsible for the success of the Legion offering last year and who will take a leading part in the production this year, also. Harry Kierman, George Swartz, black-face comedians of local renown, Harry D. Smith, Roy C. Hayward, and other familiar faces to patrons of home-talent shows will appear in the minstrels. Rehearsals are being held nightly at the American Legion Hall in the Kingsbury Building.

"PANCAKE SUPPER" AT ST. BRIGID CHURCH

A large crowd enjoyed the "pancake supper" held Wednesday evening at St. Brigid's School by the Pillsbury Flour Company. The company had its own cake bakers in the kitchen and the piping hot cakes with syrup and coffee were served by the women of St. Brigid's church. Hot sausages, furnished by The Focke Company of Dayton, were also a feature of the menu. During the supper music was furnished by the Broadcast Syncopation Orchestra composed of Mrs. Alice O'Connor, Mrs. Louise Leahy, Miss Mary Crawford and Mrs. Martha Turner of this city and the Misses Mary McMurtrie and Margaret Wortman of Dayton. The new orchestra has furnished music for a number of occasions in Dayton and this city.

The proceeds from the supper amounted to a substantial sum which was donated to the church.

ABIES IRISH ROSE MOST POPULAR PLAY IN RECENT YEARS

No play written in the last century has been more widely discussed, heralded nor phenomenally and consistently successful than has Anne Nichols' famous comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," which will appear at the City Hall Theater, October 27, 28 and 29, with a matinee.

This wonder-play of the age has established precedents never before heard of in theatrical annals in the way of long engagements in many of the larger cities of the country, including New York, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. "Abie's Irish Rose" deals with the marriage of a Jewish boy and an Irish girl, first married by a Methodist minister, then again in rapid succession by a Rabbi and a Catholic priest, in an effort to appease their storming fathers. The theme is handled in a deft and human manner and does not give offense to the most sensitive. The lines cause hysterical laughter on the part of the audiences that have enjoyed the play.

CLASS ENJOYS WIENER ROAST

The members of Mrs. V. F. Brown's Sunday School Class of the Trinity M. E. Church and their families enjoyed a wiener roast Monday evening in the woods on the F. B. Haines farm on the Nash Road.

The guests spent an enjoyable evening roasting wieners around a huge bonfire. Pumpkin pie was also served. The crowd numbered about thirty-five.

Eugene Ringer, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ringer of 10 Elm Street, received a fracture of his left arm below the elbow when he was struck and run over by an auto truck, Tuesday afternoon, near his home. The lad ran into the street not noticing the approaching machine. The driver stopped his car in order to save the boy further injury.

Mrs. R. S. Gregory of Chicago, Ill., who has been spending the past six weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien of Hill Street, will leave Saturday for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Montgomery, Mrs. James Woodell and Miss Helen Nesbitt, all of Cleveland accompanied the remains of their mother, Mrs. William B. Nesbitt, to this city. Funeral services were held at the Woodland Cemetery Chapel, Wednesday afternoon.

DAMAGES OF 1000 IN SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

Gateway has brought suit in Pleas Court against The Seaboard Airline Railway Company for damages, for injuries alleged to have been received in December, 1923, by a passenger on a train of that company. Plaintiff claimed that December 12, 1923, she bought a through ticket for the last part of the trip from St. Petersburg, Fla., to St. Petersburg, Fla., and, Florida, to her destination. The Seaboard Airline Railway Company claims that when near Tampa, Florida, the train started with a lurch, throwing the plaintiff and other passengers to the ground, the plaintiff's spine was fractured, and rendering her unconscious. She was taken to a hospital at St. Petersburg according to the plaintiff's claim, and was under constant treatment for three weeks. Plaintiff claims that she is still suffering from nervous disorder, and the effects of the accident. Plaintiff declares that the defendant company has been guilty of negligence in that the train did not stop in the usual manner, and started the brakes had been released. Plaintiff further accused the engineer of not being one of the ordinary type, and said that on occasions he had started the train in the same negligent manner. L. L. Darlington is attorney for plaintiff.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

At Exactly Open Car Cost

You pay exactly open car cost for the all-year comforts of the Coach. Hudson alone can build it. As the largest builder of 6-cylinder closed cars in the world, Hudson exclusively holds the advantages to produce this car and this price.

It creates the one important buying issue today. For no one who knows closed car comforts will be satisfied with an open car, with one-season utility, and diminishing resale value.

That is why the Coach outsells all rivals. Its leadership is not even challenged. Everyone knows it provides highest closed car value. Hudson invented the Coach and its development and experience make its value exclusive.

And even more important in your permanent enjoyment of the Coach, is the famous Super-Six chassis with performance distinction and long lasting reliability not excelled by any car regardless of cost.

Two Cars in One— An open and closed car combined

STUDEBAKER Duplex—a closed and open car combined. An entirely new-type car—developed by Studebaker and available from no other maker.

It is the most sensational—most talked-of car in America.

Yet with all this two-fold convenience, the Duplex-Phaeton sells for no more than an open car.

The new Studebaker Big Six is strikingly beautiful—with long, low sweeping lines. It is especially designed and powered for seven-passenger service.

The Big Six Duplex-Phaeton is delivered to you with complete equipment. This even includes two highest grade bumpers, extra balloon tire, tube and tire cover—there is nothing else to buy.

But to appreciate this car you must inspect it—drive it. Test its delightful ease of operation—steering mechanism especially designed for its full-sized balloon tires.

Notice the new location of the lighting switch on the steering wheel—and many other new and unusual features.

IMPERIALS MUCH STRONGER FOR GAME WITH MIDDLETOWN

In their fourth contest this season the Imperials are to meet the strong Middletown Aces Sunday afternoon at Washington Park at 2:15 o'clock. Middletown has been victorious in both games it has played this season winning from the Lebanon Tigers and Kings Mills by large scores. To date the Butler county gridiron have not been scored upon and word received from them indicate that in coming here they intend to keep their state clean.

The Imperials are much stronger now than they were in their opening game of the season when the Bulldogs defeated them by a 13 to 0 score. Frank Shroads of Cedarville, former American Legion lineman, will be in Uniform Sunday and will probably hold down one of the tackles. Manager Wones of the Imperial tried to rebuke the Bulldogs but their manager gave several poor excuses. Sunday's game will be handled by Randall who will referee while "Bill" Leakey will be head-linesman.

Health Hints

by the Father of Physical Culture

Proper play exercise will make demand for deeper breathing. ad no especial attention to this latter will be required in most cases. If mouth breathing develops or is threatened, the nose should be examined for obstructions.

Children have a natural desire to express their ebullient feelings in vocal terms annoying to their elders but highly beneficial to the youngsters. They should be permitted to "yell their heads off" at times, and they should be encouraged to sing—or make the attempt. These vocal exercises develop the lungs and help to purify the blood by leading to more complete oxygenization of the blood and neutralization of the body poisons. Besides, singing insures a better, more cheerful frame of mind, and this is valuable to any one.

Development and growth are increased by activity but would not be possible without sufficient rest, relaxation and sleep. These must be allowed and insured, and under the most wholesome conditions possible; otherwise your child's nerves will be weakened and sooner or later, his entire organism will suffer.

Regardless of properly conducted exercise, suitable wearing apparel, care of the skin and of the body generally, and of sufficient rest and sleep, a child will be in defective health and will be susceptible to the various children's diseases and other disturbances of health unless the diet is right.

The care of the mouth and teeth is another important department of child hygiene. Drs. Bowers and Ryan, in "Teeth and Health," say that few mothers understand the importance of preserving the child's first teeth. Since these teeth are only temporary anyhow, and must eventually be replaced by the second set, or permanent teeth, mothers have been led to believe that they may be neglected with impunity. Thus they may be lost long before the permanent ones appear.

Now nothing could be more definitely and lastingly harmful to the child than lose its first teeth before the second teeth are ready to displace them.

The second teeth will come in irregularly if the restraining influence of their predecessors is lost.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Grid-Dust

By Ray Higgins

What is the matter with the Central High School football team? This is not a classified advertisement, but if anybody stumbles over the answer, Coach John Ballantyne will probably be glad to offer a substantial reward for the information.

The blue and white team this year is made up principally of experienced players, with at least one and in some cases two and three years back of them. The players are big, weigh comparably with any opposing team, are well trained and well coached and play good individual football.

A schedule that brought the big games first and resulted in opening defeats may have sapped the pep of the athletes while the injury jinx, which has followed the team faithfully in each game, may have also reduced the morale of the squad. If either is the case the team should come out of the slump with a little luck and a victory or two and may redeem itself in a late start.

Coach Ballantyne has been puzzled by the showing of the eleven so far, and fans who have watched the team are also baffled by its lack of success. A promised come-back Saturday of which the players seem to be confident, may be the turning point.

Dick Gowdy, who has been spending nearly a year in "Little" Washington, Pa., the home of Graves and his well-known cohorts of Washington and Jefferson, tells this story:

It seems that the presidents were playing Grove City or some such small college several years ago, and although expecting a victory, found the little team an exceedingly hard nut to crack. The game dragged on into darkness when the players could hardly see each other.

W. and J. had the ball near the opponents goal and was about to score a touchdown when a backfield man fumbled the ball. One of the visiting players scooped up the pellet and started for his own goal. At the fifty-yard line he was running under wraps with the pack well distanced. A W.

and J. substitute on the sidelines however, saw the predicament, and diving on the field, tackled the man with the ball. In a moment both teams were there and the touchdown was saved. The substitute stepped back off the field, unseen in the darkness and Grove City never knew who prevented a sure touchdown with the unexpected tackle.

Paul B. Yockey, who stuck with Ohio State even during the disastrous 1923 season, can still find a way to show his loyalty to his alma mater. He is now making the assertion that Illinois won't beat Ohio by more than fifty points when Zuppke turns "Red" Grange loose on the Wilce-man this fall.

Two Tots Suffocated.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 23.—Lewis, aged 2, and Leona, aged 1, children of Patrick Maloney, were suffocated when their home was damaged by fire. The children were sleeping in a third-story room, in which there was an open stove. When the mother discovered the fire she was seriously burned trying to save the children and is in the Butler hospital.

CEDARVILLE TEAM TO BE HANDICAPPED FOR DEFIANCE GAME

Cedarville College will go to Defiance Saturday with a team greatly handicapped by the absence of at least three first-string men.

Currie, fullback, Arthur, halfback and Snell, tackle, are all first string players who will be out of the lineup when the Reformed Presbyterians meet one of the strongest Ohio college teams playing outside the conference. All three are on the casualty list, while several others are recovering from injuries and will not be in the best of condition for the game.

Scrimmage Wednesday was fast and furious, even with the absence of the regulars. Cedarville tied Earlham in the opening game at Cedarville and the Quakers held Defiance to an exceedingly close score, which indicated the teams will be evenly matched. As most of the injuries are in the backfield, it is expected the offense will be hindered more than the defense in the coming tilt.

MINISTER TALKS TO TEACHERS HERE

Weber, professor of religious education at Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, talked on the Dayton plan of week-day religious education in the schools, before teachers of the Xenia City Schools and others interested at the Central High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening. About 500 heard the address.

The Rev. Mr. Weaver is a member of the Dayton Board of Education and former president of the board. His address was among those of several speakers scheduled to appear in Xenia to present week-day religious education to the Xenia school children.

Coaline's bubbling lather doesn't slide over the dirt but gets in and just seems to foam the dirt off, even in the hardest water. Don't nag boys to scrub, scrub, scrub, their grubby hands. Give them Coaline—they like it. It's great for clothes dishes, pots and pans. Easy on silks, laces and hands.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Missouri. "I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken twelve bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By GEORGE McMANIS

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

The man's steps died away along the rear end of the passage. Joan heard the two men talking again. Then the sounds ceased. She heard the floor in the adjoining room creak beneath a quick tread. Lancaster was coming in! Her fears gave her resolution. She would anticipate that movement, see him, insist. She left the waiting room and went into the hall.

It was hung with little pictures of a uniform size, each exactly like its neighbor. It came into the girl's mind, even during those few hasty steps, that this was essentially a man's house; a woman would have arranged things differently, have given the place personality, have made her presence felt somehow, even in the decoration of this dark passage. The atmosphere was that of an institution, not of a home.

Then she was standing with caught breath at the door of the consulting room, which was a little ajar, as if the catch had become unfastened. She knocked, opened it, and went in.

She found herself in a large, lighted room, with the sense of an institution, though it was well furnished. She saw the white enameled table, the glass case full of instruments, the empty coat outside; then John Lancaster himself, alone, standing with bent head behind a chair, on which he was leaning.

As Joan entered an inner door began to open. Joan knew that the man with whom Lancaster had been quarreling was inside a room behind it. She dreaded lest he should come in; but suddenly the door closed.

She looked at Lancaster again. It was still quite light within the consulting room, but Lancaster, standing with his back to the window, was in silhouette, so that Joan could not see his face clearly.

"Well, madam?" he asked, raising his head.

"I came to speak to you about this morning," began Joan hurriedly. "It means—"

He indicated a chair. He was gazing at her with some embarrassment—Joan thought because of the scene in which he had just participated. "Tell me the trouble," he began, as she seated herself, drawing up his own chair toward hers.

Now Joan could see his face, and to her astonishment, it did not bear the expression of the smirking bully whom she had seen that morning, nor yet of the man who had addressed another man in such terms as one might use to a slave. It was not an unkindly face. And it was unmistakably that of a sick man.

For a moment she remembered the stories told of his behavior in the operating theater, of the gentleness that seemed to transform the man, as if he possessed a dual personality. Then she was recalled to herself by Lancaster's repetition of his remark.

Joan rose up hastily. She realized that the doctor had mistaken her for a patient. Her face meant nothing to him, any more than her distress of the day had affected him. With a nervous movement she unfastened her cloak, disclosing her uniform.

"I am Miss Wentworth," she explained. "I came to tell you—I came to say—". Then, treading out her pride once more, "I came to ask if you won't reconsider your decision to suspend me. My work means everything to me. It is my life work, my vocation. I always wanted to be a nurse. I felt that it was my task to help alleviate suffering. Doctor Lancaster, apart from my own interests, I want to graduate to be able to help others. Won't you give me another opportunity?"

She spoke with her hands unconsciously clasped before her; the recollection of her earlier hopes, the thought of their frustration brought a quiver into her voice. When she stopped she saw that Lancaster was looking at her with obvious interest. "Tell me about this morning," he said quietly.

"I had to come away without breakfast, and the fumes of the ether made me faint. I was nearly fainting when you asked me for the scalpel, and I couldn't see the tray. Indeed it was not the operation that made me ill. I have never been reprimanded before. The lady superintendent had told me several times that the hospital appreciated my work. So I hoped you would be willing to overlook my blunder and let me graduate." Lancaster looked at her with a singular expression that seemed to mask his thoughts. She could not tell how her plea had impressed him. When he spoke she was dumfounded by the harshness and casualness of his tone.

"Why have you come to my house about this?" he asked. "This is not my hour for seeing patients—I mean people."

"I am sorry if I did wrong," cried the girl. "But if you knew how much it means to me—"

"I can do nothing for you now," said Lancaster.

The voice was harsh again, but curiously flat, as if he was trying to restrain his emotions, hold himself in; as if he was afraid. . . . but afraid of what? Not of his anger.

Nerves All Unstrung?

Xenia Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct It.

Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant backache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there's cause for worry and more cause to give your weakened kidneys prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Xenia folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

Mrs. Woodrow C. Warner, 225 E. Third St., Xenia, says: "When I stooped, I got sharp stabs of pain through my back and my back often felt so cramped. I could hardly move at times. Mornings my back and shoulders felt as stiff as a board. I was tired and weak and became dizzy. I also had severe nervous spells. My kidneys acted irregularly also. Doan's Pills relieved the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Warner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
